CRAIG D. FOSTER . DIRECTOR

Craig is an accomplished, self-taught, director and writer. Originally a software engineer and honours graduate of the University of New South Wales, Craig opted to abscond from the GFC-induced wreckage of his former IT employer and pursue the more creatively fulfilling and stable #lol_jk career of his dreams in film. Craig loves tackling taboo subjects in his work and has a particular taste for dark humour. His work has been decorated with multiple awards and made him the alumni of over three dozen festivals worldwide.

Craig began work on Overtime in 2015. The horror/comedy concept was inspired by films such as Shaun of the Dead, Drag me to Hell and Wolf. Overtime was shot and completed with the assistance of Screen Australia's Raw Nerve program. In May 2016, Overtime had the honour of opening the St Kilda Film Festival in Victoria for its world premiere to an audience of 3000 people.

Craig lives in Sydney's Inner West with wife and creative partner Emma McKenna.
